YHWH through Moshe commands His people Israel to appoint judges and officers in all their tribes. These judges and officers are to be careful to judge righteously and fairly. They are commanded that they are never to take a bribe. Taking a bribe perverts justice and righteousness. Pursuing righteousness will enable Israel to go in and possess the Land YHWH promised to Avraham, Yitzchak and Ya’aqov.

Israel is also commanded to stay away from practicing idolatry. If anyone should hear of an abominable act of idolatry being done in Israel, then we are to go and thoroughly investigate this. If it is determined that this is true, then the person or persons responsible for this abominable act is to be taken out and stoned. It does not matter who this person is, or how closely related this person might be to us, we are to purge the evil from our midst.

When Israel goes out to battle they are not to fear. Israel is to trust in YHWH our Elohim for He will deliver the enemy into our hands. But if there is one who fears among the armies of YHWH our Elohim, then he is to be released from duty so that he does not cause the rest of the men to fear and sin against YHWH our Elohim by not believing that He has already delivered the enemy into our hands.
