Sarah lived to be 127 years old and died. Avraham bought a field with a cave and buried Sarah there.

Avraham was very old and he told a servant to go to the place where he was from to find a wife for Yitzchak. So the servant went to the city of Nachor.

He waited outside the city near a well at the time when the daughters of the men in the city, came out to get water. There, he prayed to YHWH saying, "Let it be that the young girl to whom I shall say 'Please let down your pitcher so I may drink' and she replies, 'Drink and let me also water your camels', she shall be the wife of Yitzchak." Before he had finished speaking, Rivkah came out of the city with a pitcher on her shoulder. She filled it up and started walking to the gate. The servant ran to her and asked her for water, which she gave to him. Then, she offered to give his camels water, also. When she had given water to all of the camels, he gave her earrings and bracelets of gold and asked her who she was and if there was enough room for him at her father's house. She told him that she was Rivkah. Her father was the son of Avraham's brother.

Rivkah ran to her house to tell them what had happened, and her brother Lavan went and brought the man to their house, where he told them why he had come. Rivkah's brothers, Lavan and Bethuel, said that she could go marry Yitzchak.

In the morning, the servant wanted to return to Avraham, but Rivkah's mother wanted her to stay another year. Rivkah, though, said that she would go.

When Rivkah was coming, Yitzchak had been praying in the field and looked up to see them coming, and Rivkah fell off her camel. She asked the servant who he was and upon hearing that he was Yitzchak, she took a veil and covered herself, and she and Yitzchak got married.

(Life of Sarah)

B'reshit (Genesis)

23-25:18

For the next Torah portion ( Genesis 25:19-28:9), there is going to be a picture contest. Draw a picture that fits the Torah portion and send it to:
chayili@onetorahforall.org

The pictures will appear in the next parsha in the order of the best pictures. Please try to send them on the first or second days of the week, and include your name and age.

This will be a weekly thing.
